d. There is no positive identifiable information on Emil LANGE or Andrejs ROZITIS.

e. The only information surfaced on Raimunds CAKS was one report received from a defector source in March 1961, which is quoted below in its entirety: "Raimunds Cakes, 9534 W. Harrison Avenue, West Allis 19, Wisconsin: Caks, according to Source was born about 1920. He became editor of a Latvian newspaper published in Jelgava, Latvia, and at this same time, Source was working at the Agricultural Academy in Jelgava. The two became acquainted. Source claims that after he defected in Sweden, he received a letter from Caks in which Caks congratulated him on his escape. Source stated that Caks became aware of his escape by reading about it in the Latvian emigre newspaper, 'Laiks'. According to Source, he did not include Caks' name in his list of acquaintances abroad that he prepared for the KGB."

f. There are no traces on the remaining fourteen (14) individuals.
